SUNDRY THINGS ARE TALKED AT CAPITAL

Rains Which Have Made Roads So Bad Expected to Result in Highway Legislation at January Meet of Legislature—New Code Being Considered—State Officer May Be Impeached.

Editor Sentinel:

Your paper, I know, would like to have a line from Jackson, the Capital of this great state, so "Onlooker" is going to do what you have suggested a number of times and that is to write when there is news or something startling. I confess that I have not much news and certainly nothing startling, yet I realize that what is transpiring at the capital of a state always concerns more or less the people of the state, most certainly those who try to keep even partially abreast of the day.

There has not been much investigating lately; if there has been, none of the committees has given out anything to the anxious public. It seems that some of those trembling on the brink of being investigated have swunk up, whatever that is. One thing seems certain and that is there is going to be an effort to impeach one state officer when the legislature convenes in January and that if he is not retired or does not retire himself, there will be no appropriation for his department.

Circuit Judge Potter is said to have talked to the grand jury when he opened court this week in a way that made many think that he was talking about some of the officers which it is claimed have handled public money so carelessly that it found its way into their own purse.

The rains have started road talk anew. There can be no question about the fact that the rains have made the people generally more than ever in earnest about permanent road building and that there is going to be a most insistent demand for some to get the wheels out of their heads and to pass a road building law. Of course one side will say that the highway commissioners must be appointed and the other will say that the best bet is now that the present commissioners will be urged by friends to step aside and three men elected by the people to serve. Too much money being spent now on roads and still they are in bad condition. The figures being published by the special highway committee are helping to make the public open wide its eyes. Another thing in this same connection and that is the publication of budgets and expenditures by boards of supervisors is bringing right under the nose of the people the amount each county is spending for roads and the big bills for hired help in the 82 counties.

One of the biggest and most important things that is to come before the legislature in January is the consideration of a new Code which is being prepared by a special committee. Many are the suggestions which are made as to what the commission should do, but the thinking members of the legislature know how easily something could be slipped in by a commission through oversight or otherwise that would serve special interests or that might hamstring a proper administration of the law. Hence it is that weeks may be expected to be given to the consideration of the new Code.

Jackson continues to build. The New York stock market has slowed down and Jackson up some but the town is so full of enterprise that there are so many hands on the dial that point with almost absolute certainty to a great city, that it has just kept on growing and planning. A great skyscraper building opened just the other day. It is a peach. Lots of residence lots being sold and the year 1930 is counted on to bring the city a thousand more families which will mean a demand for that many more homes.

ONLOOKER

EPISCOPAL MINISTER WILL PREACH AT UNION SERVICE

Rev. J. H. Boosey, rector of All Saints Episcopal Church, will preach the sermon at the union Thanksgiving services to be held at 7:30 on Thanksgiving morning at the First Baptist church. Several years ago the ministers' association here inaugurated the custom of an early morning union service on Thanksgiving Day and the practice has met with such favor on the part of the various congregations that it has been regularly followed. A large attendance is expected at the forthcoming service.

BIRD SEASON OPEN

Hunters who took their guns and their dogs to the fields Wednesday for the opening day of the bird season report that birds are more plentiful than ever this year and that shooting should be good throughout the season. Practically all of them seen claimed to have "got the limit" and that without any great difficulty.

PLAN IS SUGGESTED FOR WORK AMONG LOCAL BOYS

At a meeting held one night last week and attended by some ten or twelve men interested in boy's work and in the future of Grenada's young citizenship, many suggestions were made and arguments advanced as to how the community should handle the problem of work among its boys. It was finally the consensus of opinion of the group that each church of Grenada should contribute $250 annually and that a like amount should be added by the Rotary Club, the Young Men's Business Club and the Parent Teacher Association.

The plan was presented to the Rotary Club at its meeting Tuesday by Rev. R. L. McLeod, Jr. and it was unanimously adopted, the club's share of the funds necessary to carry on the work being voted. It was stated by Mr. McLeod that it was the idea advanced at the meeting mentioned above that some young man just out of college be secured for a period of twelve months to direct the activities among the boys here and that he should not restrict his work to the Scouts or any other individual organization.

R. W. Sharp, Methodist, stated that the matter was discussed a few days ago by some of the officials of his church and that they were enthusiastically in favor of the suggestion. He said that he would guarantee that the Methodist Church would contribute its quota.

A committee, consisting of B. C. Adams, R. L. McLeod, R. W. Sharp and John T. Keeton, was named to confer with the churches and other organizations relative to their cooperation.

Rev. Geo. D. Booth, Presbyterian minister and a Rotarian of Natchez, was a guest at the luncheon and he gave his hearty endorsement to the program outlined. He went on to relate some of his experiences with young men while doing welfare work during the war and he said that he had learned that the greatest problem to be faced is to occupy the leisure time of the youths in a profitable and character-building manner.

S. E. Corley, with the state service commission, was also a guest at the luncheon.

DOCTORS MEET HERE

The Winona District Medical Association held its meeting in Grenada Tuesday following luncheon for the visitors as guests of the Grenada Clinic.

The program was opened with a discussion of Simplicity of Infant Feeding by Dr. F. S. Hill, of Grenada. Dr. W. T. Swink, of Memphis, had for his subject Tropical Sprue, and he was followed by Dr. W. S. Lawrence, also of Memphis, whose subject was Indications for X-Ray and Radium in the Gynecologic Pelvis.

Dr. J. A. Crisler, Jr., of Memphis, one of the South's foremost young surgeons, read a most informative paper on "Tumors of the Breast" which provoked many new angles of thought in the discussion which followed.

Dr. Willis C. Campbell, famous bone surgeon of Memphis, was prevented from attending the meeting on account of the death of his mother. He was to read a paper on "Operative Measures in Treatment of Low Back Pain".

The association passed resolutions of condolence expressing its sympathy for Dr. Campbell in his bereavement.

Each speaker was followed by a round table discussion of the various subjects, participated in by all present.

Dr. J. K. Avent, local surgeon, is secretary of the district group.

ONE DEAD IN AFFRAY

Another tragedy growing out of imbibing bootleg whiskey was enacted near the Grenada-Greenwood highway at Avalon last Sunday when Mr. "Buck" Mullin shot and killed Joe Gattis. The incidents leading up to the killing are about these as best The Sentinel gets them: Gattis lived at Leflore. He got full of whiskey and attacked another white man at a negro house. The white man fled, and after terrorizing the negroes of the home, he proceeded to another negro's home on the farm of Mr. Mullin where he broke up and burned the beds, broke the dishes and played the dickens generally. Mr. Mullin appeared on the scene whereupon Gattis attacked him with a knife and inflicted several serious wounds, and it was then that Mullin brought his pistol into play and fired four bullets into Gattis' body, killing him instantly. Mullin was carried to a hospital in Greenwood where he remained several days.

Gattis was unmarried and when at himself was a hard worker and a clever and obliging man. He was a son of Mr. Ed Gattis, long a saw mill operator in the neighborhood of Casella, an honest, worthy citizen. It is stated that the victim of Sunday's tragedy frequently got drunk and that when under the influence of liquor, was almost a wild man.

Mullin is an upright, worthy man and lives at peace with his neighbors. Undoubtedly he acted in self defense.

WILLIAM B. WINTER PASSES

Mr. William Brown Winter passed to the other world at about 5 o'clock in the afternoon of November 18, his 82nd birthday, after a week's illness of the flu followed by pneumonia. He was a son of William H. and Elvira (Brown) Winter, and was born in what was then Yalobusha county but which was made a part of Grenada county in 1870. His remains were laid to rest in Odd Fellows' cemetery in the afternoon of Nov. 19, after funeral services at the cemetery conducted by Rev. R. L. McLeod, of the Presbyterian church, of which the departed had long been a member.

The Winter family is one of the oldest and most prominent in Grenada county. In his youth Mr. Winter made Miss Minnie Fisher his wife. She was a daughter of Judge E. S. and Martha Fisher. Judge Fisher was long a member of the high court of errors and appeals in this state.

The deceased had made his home on the farm where he died, ten miles west of Grenada, practically ever since his return from the Civil War. He enjoyed a wide acquaintance and there were but few men who delighted more in mingling with his friends, and in his later years, he was regarded as an authority on the events of the Civil War. He enlisted as a soldier of the Confederacy in the early days of the war and was a member of Forest's cavalry, one of the most effective divisions of those struggling for what they believed the founders of the government intended, the rights of the states. He was paroled in April, 1865, and returned at once to life on the farm to which he had devoted his energies ever since. His wife preceded him to the grave some dozen or more years ago. Fortune has been kind to his only son, Hon. W. A. Winter, who has remained around the family fireside almost since he reached his majority, and since the latter's marriage, there has been that sweet relationship that is known in happy homes.

He was an active member of the Ku Klux Klan just after the Civil War and took an aggressive part in preserving the political integrity of his community and state.

Mr. Winter was a member of the Grenada county Confederate pension board and took great delight in giving his attention to this important matter. He kept abreast of the spirit of the day and took an active interest in the affairs of his state and country. He was a rock-ribbed Democrat and felt that it was almost treason not to accept the party's mandates. He never hid his light under a bushel and was bold to proclaim himself on all matters that concerned the general welfare.

With the passing of this aged man, there is one less of that brave and gallant number who went forth in 1861 to follow the flag of the Confederacy. To the credit of Mississippi and the South, the best that they were able to do has been done for those who have lingered on this side of Jordan. Looking back at the causes of the Civil War, it appears now that the issues which caused the war had to be determined at some time, and it is fortunate for the present generation that their fathers settled the question and that now the best thought in both the North and the South see the issues in their true light and are glad that they are behind.

To the stalwart son, and other relatives The Sentinel tenders sincere sympathy.

W. L. HAMBY DIED MONDAY

Mr. W. L. Hamby died at his home in Grenada at an early hour on the morning of November 18, and his remains were interred in Odd Fellows' cemetery that afternoon after funeral services from the Central Baptist church by the pastor, Rev. E. R. Henderson.

Mr. Hamby had been a sufferer from Bright's disease for a number of years and during the past few months of his life, was a very sick man. He was a jolly, jovial, good natured and obliging man. He was good neighbor and was loyal in his friendships. He was a devoted husband and a kind and indulgent father. He was full of energy and when success did not crown his efforts in one line of endeavor, he quickly tried something else and was one of those who was all the time busy. He was a member of the Central Baptist church in Grenada.

He is survived by his wife and several children to whom The Sentinel tenders the sincerest sympathy.

WILL RUN SPECIAL

The Illinois Central is to run a special train through Grenada next Thursday, Thanksgiving Day, to Oxford for the Ole Miss-A. & M. football game to be staged that afternoon on the University field. The train will pass here around 10 a. m. and reduced fares will be in effect.

Special rates are to be given also for Thanksgiving from Memphis to Grenada and other Mississippi points.

Press Reflects Opinion of Virginia Election Results

Verdict Universal that a Met. Bishop Has Been Given Spanking Where Needed—of "Raskob, Smith and Pope" Fell Flat in Old Dominion in Politics Given Brass-Toed Papers Say.

Editorial, The Sentinel gives space to the clippings which follow from many of the leading newspapers of Virginia as well as a few from some other states for several reasons. One is, that one of the fundamental principles of this government, the separation of the state from church or ecclesiastical control, was involved in the contest, and the other is that this paper, with thousands of others, thinks when any church prelate undertakes to play both politician and political advisor and dictator, he does a thing that not only cripples the influence of his own church but hurts, in some measure, the cause of every Christian denomination. The Virginia election shows that a large majority of the electorate of that state entertains the same views. Can't cry "meddling of Roman Catholicism" and at the same time undertake to do the very things charged to Catholics. Therefore it is that many Methodists must confess that one of their bishops has been given a first class political paddling and told to go way back and sit down. Bishop Cannon has been told to stick to his last.

It will not be overlooked that many regard even more seriously than the Bishop's cry of "Raskob, Smith and Romanism" and his political activities, his dealings with a New York bucket shop and the indictment against him by the food administrator of Virginia during the World War, which was approved by the National Food Administrator, now President Hoover, for hoarding flour.

The writer has a "suspicion" (?) that those who think Bishop Cannon has grievously erred as a bishop are not overlooking anything at the annual conferences of the Methodist church, and that one of the South's ablest and most widely known lawyers, a delegate to the general conference, is going to see that the charges against the Bishop are pressed on the attention of the general conference next May.

If those high in the councils of the Methodist church and who are expected to pass on the conduct of bishops are wise, they will see that the Bishop profits by the mandate of the Virginia election in more ways than one: See Cannonism Crushed.

Editorial expressions contained in the numerous daily newspapers, both within and without the State, see in Tuesday's Democratic victory in Virginia two things above all others. In the first place, the editors construe the result as an emphatic endorsement of the program of progress pursued under the Byrd administration of Virginia's affairs. In the second place, the editors construe the result as an equally emphatic rejection of "Cannonism" in Virginia's affairs.

A third thing seen by most editors is the fact that last year's election was the exception that proved the rule that Virginia is a Democratic State. Only one editorial that has come to our attention denies that. The Philadelphia Enquirer, the comment of which is printed below, sees the election as Cannon versus anti-Cannonism rather than as a party battle.

Comment of the Greensboro, N. C. News is of especial interest because it is one of the few Southern newspapers which is not Democratic. It says:

"They (the Virginia voters) rejected the political leadership of Bishop Cannon."

Among other newspapers which treat of the bishop's political activities incidentally are the New York Times, which says, "Bishop Cannon's leadership repudiated," and the Bristol, Va.-Tenn. Herald Courier, which remarks that "The people of Virginia have made a total wreck of the Cannon-Sleep scheme." For the most part, however, the editors give this phase of the matter more serious attention, quite evidently seeing in the result the elimination of Bishop Cannon as a political force in Virginia and evidently seeing in his elimination something to be remembered on Thanksgiving Day.

For the benefit of readers of The Advance, who perhaps do not see the comments of a great many other newspapers, we reprint in full the comment of the Baltimore, Md. Sun and extracts from a number of other editorials taken from newspapers published both within and without Virginia. Says the Sun:

"Any other result in the Virginia election other than that registered would have been totally unreasonable. There was no serious contention, that was no serious Democratic administration has not been very good. There was no serious contention that the Democratic nominee for Governor, Pollard, is not capable of carrying on

DR. J. A. CRISLER, JR., HERE AT MEDICAL MEET

Among those on the program of the Winona District Medical Association which met in Grenada Tuesday of this week, was Dr. J. A. Crisler, Jr., of Memphis.

The Sentinel does not mean to make any invidious distinctions in making comment on this young surgeon's part on the program, but the writer knows him and his distinguished father so well and they have proven themselves to be such good friends of his, that he feels he would be more than derelict if some special word was not said about this gentleman.

Dr. Crisler is highly cultured. He is a graduate of several different colleges and it may be safely said that there is none who has traveled better and more thoroughly the highways of the best medical colleges of the country than he. In addition he was brought up in a home of one of the best and ablest surgeons of the South, a native of Florida, Miss Dr. Crisler, Junior, is as modest as a woman. There is a gentleness and a persuasiveness about his every demeanor that begets absolute confidence and, despite his becoming modesty, stamps him as an extraordinary man and as a doctor that knows well what he is about. He is a member of the Crisler Clinic, Memphis, one of the best in all the land, and it is bound to be more than gratifying to his distinguished father that he has a son to aid him now, and one that can and will take up his work where he, as the years pass, must naturally leave off.

Dr. Crisler, Junior, is a prince among gentlemen, and like the others of the Crisler Clinic, of which Dr. Russell A. Hennessey and Dr. Whitman Rowland, so well known in this section, are members, is a surgeon and a diagnostician of the highest class. The Sentinel congratulates Dr. J. K. Avent, secretary of the association and who plays a most important part in arranging its programs, that he calls such men as Dr. Crisler and others who might be named to discuss those things so important to the public and that mean so much to the medical world at the association's meets.

MANY FILE CLAIMS

S. E. Corley, of the state service commission with headquarters in Jackson, spent all day here Tuesday conferring with disabled ex-service men and those who felt that they were entitled to compensation or hospitalization or who felt that they had any claim at all against the government as a result of their service in the World War. As a result of his visit nine ex-soldiers, who had not previously made any demands upon the government, found they had just claims for various things, thirteen renewed old claims, four were listed for hospitalization, two for loans, four filed applications for re-examination, one for dependency and two, miscellaneous.

Mr. Corley was brought to Grenada under the auspices of Grenada Post No. 35, The American Legion. He stated that the percentage of substantial claims found here was greater than at any place he had visited recently and the local post is greatly encouraged over the outcome of his coming to Grenada. D. D. Crawford, adjutant of the Grenada post, was left blanks for every kind of claim and those who failed to see Mr. Corley may make application through him.

ENLIST IN ARMY

Archie L. Corder and Cecil T. Costilow, of Grenada County, enlisted this week in the regular army at Memphis.

Corder is the son of Mr. and Mrs. William A. Corder, Route 1. He was attending Grenada High School at the time of his enlistment. He played football for the high school team for the past two years as a tackle. His father is one of the leading farmers of this section.

Costilow is a son of Mr. Walter T. Costilow, Mound Street, who has been a rural route carrier of this district for about 12 years. Corder and Costilow had their own choice as to the branch of service and post desired and chose the infantry for duty at Fort D. A. Russell, Cheyenne, Wyoming. They left for that station Wednesday.

DIES AT AGE OF 60

S. T. Carter passed away at 11:15 p. m. Monday, Nov. 18, at the home of his sister, Mrs. S. B. Cowan, in Grenada after an illness extending over many months. Mr. Carter came to Grenada two years ago to reside and he was in poor health at that time. His condition gradually declined until the end came.

Mr. Carter had never married. He had long been a member of the Methodist church and those who knew him looked upon him as an upright, honorable Christian gentleman. Through his long illness and his faith in the Risen Lord never wavered and he looked to the end with Christian resignation. His remains were forwarded

I. C. BOOSTERS CLUB BANQUETS NOV. 19

Local Organization of Railroad Enjoys Elaborate Affair—Cawles Horton Toastmaster—Many Fine Addresses Are Made—Officials of Company in Attendance. Others Are Guests.

The Illinois Central Service Boosters Club of the Illinois Central Railroad enjoyed an elaborate banquet Tuesday evening, Nov. 19, at the Masonic Temple.

The tables were attractively decorated with railroad colors and crepe paper streamers in the same hues were suspended from the ceiling.

The ladies of the Eastern Star prepared and served the sumptuous repast. Candies and cigars were passed after the meal by Mr. and Mrs. S. H. Garner.

Invocation was said by the Rev. A. T. Clanton, of Tchula.

Between courses Miss Catherine Lufkin rendered several delightful piano solos and Mrs. W. A. Campbell sweetly sang two numbers. Mr. W. D. Boone also contributed to the musical program with a popular number and several rollicking novelty songs.

Music from a Victor radio also added to the evening's entertainment.

Mr. Cowles Horton, local attorney for the railroad, presided as toastmaster in a most pleasing manner, introducing the speakers of the evening with especially appropriate remarks. He was introduced by Mr. E. M. Sherwood, chairman of the Boosters' Club. As a preface to their talks, he spoke very fittingly of the progress the Illinois Central has made since its inception. He said that it was not the president of the organization, not the men in authority, who had made it what it was but the men who came in closest contact with the people the system served, such men as those who form the boosters' club of Grenada. Each member of an organization as vast and powerful as the I. C. is as necessary to its successful operation as the several parts of a locomotive engine he remarked. Each employee should so live, said Mr. Horton, that should the art of printing be forever lost and the public be unable to read in the future the motto of the I. C., "courtesy and efficient service," they might read through the lines of the men who serve them.

Dr. J. W. Young related some of his experiences as surgeon for the company, mentioning some of the beauties of his service and telling of some absurd and preposterous claims made against the company under his professional observation, and stating that the railroad officials, in pursuance of their policy of courtesy, fairness, and justice, instructed their surgeons in giving testimony in all litigations growing out of accidents to always be absolutely fair and truthful, not leaning towards the company where it was at fault.

Mr. J. T. Thomas, in a short and appropriate talk, expressed his delight at being present. He said he was very proud of his numerous friends among the railroad fraternity and attributes the cause to the fact that he has always been a friend to the railroad.

Mr. A. D. Caulfield, superintendent of the Mississippi division, of Water Valley, was the next to address the club. He discussed the competition the railroad has had to contend with in the last few years and urged the cooperation of all in combating it. Interesting and instructive talks were also made by the following: T. M. Pittman, roadmaster, Water Valley; H. M. McWhorter, traveling freight and passenger agent, Memphis; A. A. Williams, traveling passenger agent, Memphis; S. S. Houston, chief dispatcher, Water Valley; E. C. Berry, superintendent of the American Railway Express, Memphis; G. J. Sauray, route agent, Memphis; H. B. Sargent, trainmaster, Durant; C. S. Burt, superintendent of ties and treatment, Memphis; N. W. Spangler, trainmaster, Water Valley; J. K. Avent, local surgeon; M. L. Hayes, supervising agent, Water Valley; S. H. Garner, secretary Boosters' Club; W. A. Prather, division storekeeper, Tie Plant; E. M. Sherwood, local agent and Dr. R. A. Clanton.

Benediction was pronounced by the Rev. A. T. Clanton. Among the out-of-town guests were: J. T. Westbrook, assistant engineer, Water Valley; C. H. Crews, bridge and building supervisor, Water Valley; Mesdames N. W. Spangler, Miss. Division, editor; Mrs. Gertrude Turner, correspondent for Water Valley and Jackson district trainmen.

Tuesday to his former home in Como where interment was had that afternoon. Besides Mrs. Cowan, numerous other relatives survive, to all of whom The Sentinel tenders its sympathy.

THE RECENT RAINS SHOW UP ROADS.

The week's almost continuous rains which ended Sunday night played havoc with Mississippi roads and came near clinching the conviction that our graveled roads are quite like grease and soap. The rains showed most conclusively that so far as heavy traffic is concerned, it is little less than a crime to put money into graveled highways.

The road issue therefore comes with more than telling force before the Governor and the lawmakers in January.

Something should be done. It would be almost a capital offense to wait another two years before starting building concrete roads. But in order to start, there must be a shifting of positions and some sacrifices for the public weal.

Our suggestion is this: The present highway commissioners should resign, and they should be allowed to do so with decency and in a manner not to reflect on their integrity. The members receive no salary. They should see the predicament of the state and rise to meet the situation as patriotic citizens. In place of the eight commissioners, three should be chosen by the people, one from each supreme court district. For this to be done, somebody would have to swallow his words, but what is pride of opinion or partisan bias when placed alongside the welfare of the state?

We know several members of the highway commission and we know them to be men of integrity and men who are honest to the core. It would take a voice from the skies to make us believe that Col. R. H. Henry had done anything that would reflect on his long, useful and honorable record in the state. We could say as much for the honor and the integrity of D. W. Robins, W. D. Boone and Mr. Roberts, all of whom we know personally. Nevertheless these men make a part of the political mountain that stands in the way of starting a permanent road building program.

With three new commissioners elected by the people, the way would be cleared, some of the stumps out of the pathway. Then increase the gasoline tax one cent per gallon and issue say ten million dollars in bonds.

Let's quit talking and go to building.

Restrictions could be placed around the sale of the bonds that should satisfy every reasonable mind. Of course the whole amount of the bonds need not be sold at once, maybe three or four years would elapse before the total issue would be required. By that time we should have learned from experience and observation quite a good deal, and certainly much about road building.

No use talking about hitching road building to some political fads or to make what we undertake about roads contingent on the shifts of the politician's compass. It is time to cease to be puerile about highways and to be real men concerned about our homes, our children and the future of the commonwealth.

When we start a well guarded, sensible road program, we initiate plans that will save money and that will do away with eighty-two different political divisions acting separately. Let's get a lesson from what Woodrow Wilson urged in the very beginning for the Allied armies—all under one leader. From almost the very day that Mr. Wilson's ideas were adopted, the Allied armies began to advance and the Germans to fall back, back, back.

MAIL ORDER HOUSE'S COMMANDS.

1. You shall sell your farm products for cash, where you can, but not to us, for we buy nothing from you.
2. You shall believe us, and buy all you can from us, for we want your business, because we do not know you personally.
3. You shall send your money to us in advance so that we can buy the goods from the factory with your money; you may have to wait a few weeks, but that is our business method.
4. You shall get help from your nearest city or village to build good roads, so that you may easily haul goods from the depot, but do not ask help from us—we don't help to build good roads.
5. You shall buy church bells and altar utensils from us, and send the money in advance—that is our rule.

6. You shall get all the help you can for your church from the business men in your nearest village or city, for although we have more profits from you than they, it is against our rules to give to churches.

7. You shall convert your neighbors also to your faith in us, so that they will buy from us, we have room for more money.

8. You shall look at the pretty pictures in our catalogue as often as you can, so as to strengthen your desire for things you do not need, but which you may order with other goods to save freight. Send us all your ready cash, so that you may not have any of it left to buy necessities from your home dealer.

9. You shall believe us rather than your home business men, for we want your trade. We get to be millionaires on your support. Don't be bluffed.

10. You shall call on the business people of your own vicinity for help and credit, if you meet with hard luck, trouble or sickness. It's your money we want; we don't know you unless your orders are accompanied by cash.—Center, North Dakota, Republican.

SHOP EARLY AND MAIL EARLY.

We can hardly realize that Christmas is almost at hand and that another year is soon to come to a close. The year has passed swiftly, too swiftly for some of us, but now that the glad some Yuletide season is almost here it behooves us to begin our preparations for the occasion. It's not too early now to begin our Christmas shopping—there are only 28 more shopping days until the holiday. By making our selections of Christmas goods now we shall be able to pick from full and complete assortments in a leisurely and unhurried manner and our minds will be free of the worry incident to the rush of last minute buying.

Grenada merchants are preparing for an unprecedented holiday business. They are basing their expectations upon the prosperity of this section following the greatest cotton crop since the advent of the boll weevil. They have purchased wonderful stocks of goods for the holiday trade. Prices are reasonable and are as low and the selections are as complete as can be found elsewhere. It, therefore, behooves all loyal Grenadians to "try Grenada first" for their needs, not only during the Christmas season but during the whole year as well.

While shopping early it is just as advisable to mail early. By placing our packages and Christmas mail in the postoffice early we are assured that delivery will be made in ample time and we avoid the congestion always prevalent at this season of the year and, above all, we evidence consideration for the postal clerks who are swamped with work at Christmas time.

Shop early, mail early.

THRIFT AND CRIME.

Encouragement of thrift as a means of reducing crime is suggested by a well-known publicist, who declares that extravagant habits in many cases are the direct cause of banditry.

Aside from the financial gains possible through economy and thrift, the habit of saving has a stabilizing effect upon one's character. The person who is laying aside something each week or each month with the idea of ultimately securing financial independence is more dependable than the one who spends his money as fast or faster than he makes it.

Many who have resorted to dishonesty in order to secure needed funds quickly are those who have been first led into extravagant living. Allowing themselves to indulge in luxuries in excess of what their earnings warrant, they more easily yield to temptation to dishonesty in its various forms.

Habits of thrift should be inculcated early and should be encouraged at every turn. Those who have acquired such habits are generally industrious, ambitious and honest.—Selected.

The bank cashier, Oubre, at DeKalb, got the maximum penitentiary sentence which was no doubt a just one. But we were just thinking how many who have been found guilty of mulcting far more than is charged to Oubre got a much lighter sentence.

We quite agree with the Jackson Daily News that it is difficult to understand how these bank shortages frequently show up so quickly after an audit by the state banking department. The fact is it is difficult to keep a man from acting a rascal who is ever seeking that sort of an opportunity.

WALL STREET'S WILD SPECULATING.

Never in all the history of this country has speculating in the New York stock market run as wild as it has during the first two weeks of November. It was a see-saw game between the bulls and the bears for days. Millions were cast to the four winds where only hundreds went in a like way heretofore.

The debacle was not only for a day but for a series of days. As usual the small investor had his innards mashed out. Suckers are still being born and are biting as usual.

We would not have given a tinker's dam had the fight between the bulls and the bears busted the whole caboodle.

The truth is there are a dozen concerns which keep their denizens in Wall Street that can bring on a panic or any sort of a business paroxysm at will. They deserve about as much show as a pole cat does from its neighbor.

The worst feature about the business is that the balance of the country has been drained of money to be dumped into the Stock Market hopper. Building throughout the country and other needed improvements have gone to zero because of the lack of money—the money had been carted to New York.

The country is skating on thin ice when its financial system permits what has just been pulled off in the New York stock market.

PICK THE COTTON.

While more than 85 per cent of the cotton in this section has been picked, one frequently hears the statement that with the price what it is, it may not be worth while to pick the remaining crop. That is foolish business. Long way cheaper to pick what is already made than to think now of picking what it is hoped to make next year.

COMMISSIONER'S NOTICE OF SALE

Pursuant to the authority vested in me under the terms of a certain decree of the Chancery Court of Grenada County, Mississippi, in cause number 4226 styled R. P. Clark vs. Jas. H. Spence, et als, which decree is dated November 4th, 1929, and appears of record in Minute Book H. Pages 253 and 254 of the minutes of said court, reference to which decree is hereby specially made as a part of this notice, I will on Monday, December 2nd, 1929 offer for sale and sell within legal hours at public outcry to the highest bidder for cash at the East door of the County Court House of Grenada County, Mississippi, in the City of Grenada for the purpose of satisfying said decree, the following described lands lying and being situated in said County and State, to-wit:

A tract of land beginning on the east and west half section line of Section Sixteen (16), five (5) chains east of the Section line between Sections 16 and 17 and running thence west along the half section line of Sections 16 and 17, thirty-five (35) chains; thence south 11 1/2 chains; thence east 35 chains; thence north 11 1/2 chains to the point of beginning, lying in the Southwest Quarter of Section Sixteen (16) and the Southeast Quarter of Section 17, Township Twenty-two, Range Five (5), East Grenada County, Mississippi, containing 40 acres, more or less.

The sale of the above described land will be made subject to all the terms and conditions of said decree.

TAX BOOKS NOW OPEN

To the Taxpayers of Grenada County:

The Board of Supervisors has fixed the levy for taxes for the fiscal year 1929-1930 and this is to advise you that the sheriff's office is ready to proceed with the collection of taxes.

It is always advisable to pay your taxes as early as possible and a great portion of Grenada County taxpayers have always done so. This serves to eliminate congestion in the sheriff's office during the last few days of tax paying time and prevents the possibility of your not being waited on within the time limit prescribed by law.

The statutes provide for the assessment of 10 per cent damages on all taxes unpaid before the first of February. The commutation road tax is delinquent after Dec. 15th and the law requires that the names of all delinquents on this tax be turned over to the justices of the peace for collection which, of course, means the adding of damages. By paying your taxes now you will avoid all these unpleasant features and will confer a great favor on this office.

Respectfully,
FRED S. NASON, Sheriff

SUNDAY SCHOOL LESSON

Lesson for November 24

THE HIGHER PATRIOTISM

LESSON TEXT—Jonah 1:1-3; 3:1-5; 4:5-11.

GOLDEN TEXT—And hath made of one blood all nations of men for to dwell on all the face of the earth.

PRIMARY TOPIC—God's Love for Everybody.

JUNIOR TOPIC—God's Love for Everybody.

INTERMEDIATE AND SENIOR TOPIC—What is True Patriotism?

YOUNG PEOPLE AND ADULT TOPIC—Patriotism and Internationalism.

The lesson committee has rightly suggested the entire book of Jonah as the basis of our study. The topic selected by the committee may seem a little strained. It will hardly do to call the spirit which moved Jonah to preach to the Ninevites patriotism; rather, we should recognize it as the passion of a missionary going forth with the message of God calling upon men to repent and turn to Him. Patriotism means love for one's country, while the spirit of the missionary is passionate love for lost men of all countries.

I. Jonah's Call and Commission (1:1, 2).

Jonah, a Jew, was called to go and preach repentance to a Gentile city. In a real sense, salvation is of the Jews. In the seed of Abraham all nations of the earth shall be blessed (Gen. 12:1, 2). The story of Jonah graphically portrays the history of Israel as a nation. God separated Israel to be the channel through which His mercy and salvation were to be carried to all the nations of the earth. They, like Jonah, have been recalcitrant to duty. Because of that God has caused them to be swallowed up by the nations, who will one day in the future spit them out upon dry ground, Palestine. After chastisement they, like Jonah, will discharge their obligation and nations will repent and turn to God.

II. Jonah's Flight From Duty (1:3).

He turned his back upon God and attempted to flee from His presence. He went in the opposite direction to which he was sent. He did not believe in foreign missions. In the same way, Israel has become an apostate people, and instead of being a blessing has become a burden upon and a curse to the nations.

III. Jonah's Correction (1:4-2:10).

1. Overtaken by a storm (1:5). Trouble soon came upon the disobedient servant of God. So, with the Jews, misfortune after misfortune, storm after storm have overtaken them because they turned from God. They are now tossed about by the nations. They, like Jonah, are asleep.

2. Cast overboard (1:15). In their perplexity the sailors cast lots and the lot fell upon Jonah. According to his own direction they did this. God had prepared a great fish which swallowed Jonah.

3. Jonah's deliverance (ch. 2). Jonah in his affliction turned to God and prayed (James 5:13). God miraculously preserved him while in the belly of the fish. God has miraculously preserved Israel while in the heart of the nations. The fish could not digest Jonah, neither can the nations assimilate Israel. Jonah repented while in the fish. So Israel will repent as she goes into the great tribulation. God makes the fish to vomit out Jonah. So He will at the proper time cause the nations to cast out Israel.

IV. Jonah's Commission Renewed (3:1-10).

Although Israel has been rebellious and failed in the execution of her commission, she will repent and go forward to fulfill her commission in preaching the gospel to the nations of the earth. Observe:

1. The field of his ministry (v. 3).

It was to be the great Gentile city Nineveh. Israel's field is the Gentile nations.

2. His message (v. 4).

He was instructed to "preach the preaching" which God had commissioned him to utter—announcing that Nineveh was to be overthrown within forty days.

3. Effect upon the people of Nineveh (vv. 5-10). They repented and sued for pardon. In the time to come the Gentile nations will repent of their sins when the gospel of the kingdom is preached unto them by the Jews.

V. Jonah's Behavior (4:1-11).

His displeasure (vv. 1-3). He now makes known the real reason for his flight from duty. He knew that the gracious God would spare the people who repented. We have here a case of a preacher of repentance mortified when the people repent and are pardoned.

2. God reproves Jonah (vv. 4-11).

By means of the gourd God shows him his error. The closing scene affords a striking example of the patience and pity of God in contrast with the hard-heartedness of man.

Our Scraps of Time

If you have not much time at your disposal, do not fail to profit by the smallest portions of time which remain to you. We do not need much time in order to love God, to renew ourselves in His presence, to lift up our hearts toward Him, to worship Him in the depths of our hearts, to offer Him what we do and what we suffer.—Penelon.

Just like MONEY in the bank

Two major qualities of the Pontiac Big Six—its reliability and long life—offer motorists a definite cash advantage which is just like money in the bank. For not only do these qualities effect big savings in the cost of operating every Pontiac... but in addition they increase still further the demand for used Pontiacs. And that means that the Pontiac Big Six you buy today will have a high resale value when you are ready to turn it in.

Pontiac has many other important qualities to offer you. It has the highest top speed, fastest acceleration and the greatest power to be found in any low-priced six. It offers more style in its bodies by Fisher—and more safety in its non-squeak, dirt-and-weather-proof internal four-wheel brakes. And as for Pontiac economy, a large corporation operating 99% automobiles of 33 different makes found the operating cost of their Pontiacs during 1928 to be one cent a mile less than that of any other low-priced six.

Let us appraise your present car. Our allowance frequently covers the down payment so that a small amount monthly enables you to enjoy the many unusual advantages offered by the Pontiac Big Six.

in medieval Italy ever was. He arrogated to himself the right to proclaim that John Garland Pollard must not be elected. Mr. Pollard has been elected by a veritable landslide of votes. Wherefore, Bishop Cannon's political power is broken and trampled in Virginia.

"There were just two issues in the campaign which came to a close with the election of yesterday. They were whether the policies of the Byrd administration should be approved or rejected, and whether Bishop Cannon should or should not dominate government in Virginia. With a mighty voice, the people of Virginia have shouted their approval of the Byrd policies and their will that Bishop Cannon shall not rule Virginia.

"Virginia, then, has won a tremendous victory."

Washington Post:

"The prelate-politician, Bishop James Cannon, Jr., leader of the bolting movement in Virginia, left his followers in the heat of battle and tried to save himself. He saw the handwriting on 'the wall,' whereupon he set sail for South America, having discovered suddenly that a church convention required his presence. Bishop Cannon may put forth the alibi of absence to explain his crushing personal defeat of Tuesday, but he is beaten just the same. He is now free to devote himself to his ecclesiastical duties.

"The triumph is a deserved rebuke to Bishop James Cannon, Jr., who, with his anti-Smith following lined up with the Republicans and endeavored to inject into the campaign the bitter religious feeling which he successfully aroused in the Presidential campaign last year.

"The Democrats of Virginia demonstrated that they were not interested. The fulminations against John J. Raskob fell flat. Of far greater importance was the further development of the State.

"Bishop Cannon was given a lesson. It is to be hoped that it was understood."

Richmond News-Leader:

"Prohibition was not an issue, but Cannonism was. Prohibition would have been safe in the hands of either Pollard or Brown, though Pollard, of course, had the longer experience in shaping it and had been more active in supporting it. Dr. Cannon and his satellites tried to make it appear otherwise. He displayed unparalleled venom and un-Christian bitterness in the article he wrote just before he sailed to Brazil. Virginians, lovers of fair play, resented his attempt to create an issue to satisfy a grudge, and they have given him the sternest rebuke he has ever received in twenty-five years of Virginia public affairs. Virginia people are willing, anxious indeed, that their ministers shall lead when a real 'moral issue' is at stake, but they showed yesterday that they will not countenance the invention of a fake moral issue to further a clerical dictatorship in politics. Prohibition and religion are more secure in Virginia today because the people have at last taken the measure of James Cannon."

"Back of one of the candidates was the regular Democratic organization. Back of the other was the influence of Bishop Cannon. We have said before that to a large extent the contest was between what is known as Cannonism and the forces hostile to it. Anti-Cannonism has won."

Roanoke World-News:

"For ten years or more beginning with the Mann regime, Virginia was dominated, especially in the halls of legislation, by Bishop Cannon. Study of the Acts of Assembly of that period will show the blight it placed on Virginia progress when the single yardstick of prohibition was applied to every man and every measure. Not until the Byrd administration began was Virginia emancipated from this blight on its progress. It does not again intend to submit to it. Cannon and Cannonism have been repudiated by the people of Virginia at the ballot box."

Staunton News-Leader:

"Tuesday's decisive victory * marks the end of Cannonism in Virginia, the greatest affliction that has come upon us in recent years. From the close of Governor Swanson's administration to the opening of that of Governor Trinkle Cannonism rested like a blight on the Old Dominion. Everybody who remembers anything about the poverty of constructive legislation and of State achievement during that lean period, when Bishop Cannon held the whip hand over the Democratic party, realizes what the passing of Cannonism means. As is well known, it was Cannon who engineered the fusion movement last June. It was he who, with Anderson and Slemph, (Republicans) picked Dr. Brown to head the coalition ticket. And, while claiming to be a Democrat, he did this thing, knowing that the anti-Smith element that followed his leadership would be submerged in such coalition and that control would be lodged in the hands of Anderson and Slemph, with Cannon as the ecclesiastical overlord or third member of the triumvirate.

"Tuesday's victory has definitely repudiated Cannonism as an influence to be reckoned with seriously in Virginia politics. That is the best of all. John Garland Pollard's election by such an impressive majority of the electorate is the happy augury for an administration which the News-Leader believes will be rich in wisdom, sound in leadership and full of service for the commonwealth."

Charleston, S. C., News and Courier:

"The Virginians unfrocked a political bishop. They have striped the Rev. James Cannon, Jr. of all his authority in temporal affairs. Prohibition was not an issue. The sole question was the dictatorship of the ecclesiastical. The lay people resisted it and Jefferson's commonwealth has reasserted Jefferson's principles of religious freedom."

Atlanta, Ga., Constitution:

"The news of Virginia's reassertion of her indigenous Democratic faith in the election of Tuesday has sent a thrill of gratification through all the Democratic hosts of the nation. This year Bishop Cannon and his insurrecto lieutenants made the great mistake of thinking they could consolidate the bolters of last year and join them with the Republicans, and with that hybrid coalition overthrow Democratic party supremacy and government in the Old Dominion.

"It is much to be hoped that the Virginia election will lead the churches to get speedily and solidly back to their religious mission and principles. Cannonism should go from the church as another form of Cannonism was expelled from the National Congress years ago."

Raleigh, N. C., News and Observer, published by Josephus Daniels:

"Cannon and Brown and other Democrats, who fused with the Republicans, violated the letter and spirit of the Asheville pledge, and sought in Virginia to destroy the spirit ideals and unity of our Southern Democracy. As a result, the great bulk of the anti-Smith Democrats refused to follow their leadership and voted in November, 1929, to do exactly what they were advised to do in the Asheville meeting in July, 1928."

Danville Register:

"In Virginia, the results of the election of John Pollard as Governor is one of the greatest Democratic significance in the history of the State. For we have to look at this victory from both the negative and positive points of view. If the Republican nominee had been elected, Cannonism would have been restored in Virginia, in addition to the Republican bossism of Slemph and Anderson, we would have had the ecclesiastical overlordship of Bishop James Cannon, Jr., who this time would not have sat by the speaker's chair of the House, but would have walked into the front door of the Governor's Mansion. The success of the Republican ticket in Virginia would have made an Archbishop of Bishop Cannon—he would indeed have become a Cardinal Richelieu, he would have become a powerful figure in national politics. He it was who inspired the 'coalition' in Virginia, and he it was who takes the heaviest dose of defeat. This Democratic victory writes the political obituary of Bishop Cannon in Virginia."

Praises Dodge Performance

Frances Gentry, Hollywood film star, is proud of her Dodge Brothers sport coupe, and by this simple demonstration, she can prove the car's low sweeping lines. Miss Gentry, who appeared in the musical comedy, "Good News", praises the "rhythmic performance" of her car as the last word in automotive luxury.

DAIRY AND POULTRY TRAIN TO BE OPERATED BY I. C.

The Illinois Central Railroad will operate a Dairy and Poultry Special Train over its lines in Mississippi and Louisiana, commencing December 2nd. The train will be a dairy and poultry short course on wheels.

The exhibits will consist of twenty purebred Jersey sires, which the Illinois Central has recently purchased and which will be placed in communities along the railroad in the south where it is believed the most good can be done in developing the dairy industry. Brief stops will be made at various points where the cattle will be on exhibition to the public and lectures given on dairying.

Besides the cattle exhibit there will be one car containing an exhibit of poultry and poultry equipment. Lectures will be given at each stop to those interested in the poultry industry.

Another car will portray the importance of good pastures and the importance of growing roughage in connection with dairying. Lectures will be given on these subjects also.

The train will be an Agricultural College on Wheels, operated for the purpose of disseminating information to the farmers and the public in general on these important branches of agriculture.

The problems to be solved by the operation of the Dairy and Poultry Special are those confronting every business man as well as the farmer.

Further particulars regarding the train will appear in the papers from time to time. Watch the press for schedule of the train and prepare now to attend. H. J. Schwieter, General Agricultural Agent, will be in charge.

The hard thing about making money last is making it first.

A Great Discovery

When Pasteur discovered, in 1852, that the infection of wounds was caused by malignant bacteria, he performed a service of incalculable value to mankind. Since then medical science has been producing better and better antiseptics, to kill these germs that may enter the smallest cut and give us diseases such as typhoid, tuberculosis and lockjaw. Now, all you have to do to be sure that these dreadful germs will not infect a wound, is to wash that wound, however small, thoroughly with Liquid Borozone, the modern antiseptic. Operetta A Tremendous Success.

The operetta, "The Enchanted Garden", written and directed by Miss Anita Poe Gann for the public school music department, was presented to a full auditorium on Thursday evening, Nov. 14th, at the high school. An enthusiastic audience greeted the opening curtain despite the dampness of the weather. The cast of over 200 children from the primary, elementary and high schools displayed marvelous training for such a short time that Miss Gann has had this work. She deserves credit for writing, organizing and presenting such a spectacular performance. However, credit should also be given Misses Etta Turner and Georgia Cook who designed the beautiful costumes; Misses Margaret Ellis and Katie Mae Dear who arranged the stage setting; and Misses Nancy Halbert and Mary Phillips who so untiringly aided at rehearsals.

The story opened with a band of gypsies, the girls glee club, who sang and danced in the gypsy fashion. A boys' quartette, composed of Harry Rayburn, Lloyd Lott, James Farr and Vassar Duward, Jr., added color to the gypsy atmosphere. As the gypsies sang, a little girl wandered into the clearing. Etta Dubard, an expression pupil of Miss Gann's, played her part well and discovered herself really in "The Enchanted Garden". She was charmed by the loveliness of the "Flower Folk" who were real children selected from various grades. However, the gypsies found no trouble in singing the little girl to sleep since she was so tired from her long walk.

A typical little fairy was Vernetta Wilson as she flew about over the garden casting her magic spell. The result was instantaneous for immediately appeared "The old woman who lives in the shoe", none other Martha Hoffa. She brought along her seventy children of the primary department who composed the rhythm band. Miss Gann's ability to hold the attention of these tiny tots was marvelous. This rhythm band was an outstanding attraction to all.

Mary Douglas Hall, as maid of Japan, brought a group of pink and blue Japs who interpreted their little character song admirably. Another group who entertained the little girl were the Dutch in their quaint blue and white and even little wooden shoes. The outstanding feature of their dance was the wind-mills each couple formed.

William Gammon was realistic as Little Jack Horner, with a real pie and a plum that made one's mouth water. Little Miss Muffet must not be left out for little Helen Horton sang so sweetly she not only charmed her spider but her audience as well. Cinderella was another solo part sung by Edith Penn and the audience felt she would have no trouble in winning a real prince. When Susan Proby as "Little Red Riding Hood" or Kathleen Watson find her sheep one felt that he was back in Mother Goose land sure enough. In fact all of the solo parts were well acted and should be complimented.

The ten little Indians should be mentioned not because they were fierce and war-like but for their impressive song and dance.

Rice York as Jack Frost was an attractive little Eskimo as were all the others in their snow costumes. So realistic were the last two groups one could not help but recall former days when the colonial children danced and sang; then the modern age with the pep and vigor of the sailors and their sweethearts. Both of these groups were appropriately costumed and gave a lovely effect.

When the little girl awoke and found all of these "Fairy Land" children really to welcome her she was overcome with joy. After some deliberation she decided to stay and be one of them. They all were so happy over her decision they burst into song. After the finale the entire cast marched off the stage down the aisles in an effective exit.

Zone Meeting Held.

A very interesting zone meeting of the Methodist Missionary Society was held Monday afternoon, Nov. 18, at 2:30 o'clock at the local church.

Mrs. R. F. Matthews, chairman, presided. A number of ladies from Duck Hill and Holcomb were present.

Splendid reports from the societies were made. All observed the week of prayer and special mention was made of Harvest Day to be observed in December. Mrs. A. W. Stokes, district secretary, brought to the attention of the meeting several interesting facts bearing on the work of the society.

An excellent program was presented by Mrs. S. S. Caruthers, of Duck Hill, Mrs. J. H. Holder, and Mrs. E. R. Prouditt. Officers for the ensuing year were elected. Mrs. S. S. Caruthers was named chairman and Mrs. J. W. Walker, also of Duck Hill, secretary.

Following the business session a social half-hour was enjoyed, and delicious sandwiches and tea were served.

These zone meetings are held once each quarter and the first meeting of the new year will be held Monday afternoon, Feb. 17, 1930, at Duck Hill.

Birthday Party.

Mrs. R. F. Matthews entertained very delightfully Monday afternoon, the occasion being the seventh birthday of her son, Frank, Jr.

After the young guests had arrived and presented their gifts they were invited out into the front yard to hunt for apples. The youngsters enjoyed the search very much and also several other interesting games.

Perhaps the greatest thrill of the afternoon came when the children were asked to stand beneath a "sugar plum tree" as attractive as the one in the "garden of shut-eye-town" about which Eugene Field has so beautifully written and catch the lollypops in their mouths. Kodak pictures were also made of the group.

Later they were invited into the dining room where a lovely pink cake adorned with pink candles was cut. Decorations of chrysanthemums added to the pretty scene. Bags of candy and nuts were presented to each guest.

Those present to enjoy the afternoon with Frank were: Frances and Catherine Herring, Sarah Jacqueline Stevens, Nancy Newsum, Martha Jane Kettle, Katherine Wasson, Jacqueline Lane, Marvis Boone, Doris McFarland, Catherine Clanton, James Hardy Holder, Allen Anderson, Max Juchheim, Jack Kimzey, Rice York, Perry Jones, David Childress, Robert Horn, John, Jr. and Benton Keeton and Sidney Taylor Kettle.

Miss Joyce Matthews assisted her mother in entertaining and serving Frank's guests.

Celebrates Birthday.

Mr. B. F. Roche celebrated his birthday on Thursday evening, November 14, with an enjoyable stag party.

Card games were engaged in and at their conclusion delicious refreshments, which had been prepared by Mrs. Roche, were served. Those present were: Messrs. Jimmie Denton, Wallace Sherwood, W. D. Holland, Vernon Williams, "Tubby" Bruso, James Pou and Dave Barnett. Mr. Pettie, of Jackson and Messrs. "Red" Farmer and Hardy Laycock, of Batesville, were also present to enjoy the evening with Mr. Roche.

Mrs. W. C. McLean left Wednesday at noon for Little Rock, Ark. where she will visit her sisters. After the first of the year she expects to go to Tampa, Fla., to visit her son and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Campbell McLean, and another son and daughter, Dr. and Mrs. Russell McLean, at Clearwater. En route to Little Rock Mrs. McLean stopped over in Memphis to see Mrs. George Jones for a short while. Mr. H. A. Culver, manager of the Grenada cotton exchange, has rented the apartment on the lower floor of her home and he and his family, who have been in Memphis, will live there after the first of December.

Mr. Charles F. Goodwin left Tuesday after a short visit with his mother, Mrs. Carrie Goodwin.

Host to 20th Century.
The Twentieth Century Club met Tuesday afternoon with Mrs. A. C. McLean, as hostess. There were 17 members and 5 visitors present.

The topic for the afternoon was "Some Noted Women", and Mrs. H. J. Ray read an interesting paper by Dr. Berle on the subject. Mrs. W. H. Kirk gave a very worth while talk on "What are the Ideals of Womanhood to Place Before Our Girls?"

Mrs. R. L. Vandiver brought out some important points on the subject "Is Home Life or Public Life Best to Look Forward To?" Mrs. O. F. Lawrence had as her topic "Should Marriage be Accepted to Avoid a Career or Declined to Give a Chance for a Career?", and cited several noted instances where marriage and a career were successfully combined.

The members responded to the roll call by naming a noted woman and stating briefly why she is noted.

Two attractive daughters of club members added much to the afternoon's entertainment. Miss Dorothy Aiken very beautifully played a piano solo, and Miss Lula Mae Provine gave a clever reading.

The hostess, assisted by Mrs. S. Y. Anderson, served delicious refreshments at the conclusion of the program.

Guests of the club were: Mrs. S. Y. Anderson, Mrs. Erle Johnston, Miss Catherine Johnston and Misses Aiken and Provine.

The next meeting will be held Tuesday afternoon, Dec. 3, with Mrs. W. B. Waterman instead of with Mrs. C. C. Penn as previously announced.

Misses Lillian Perry and Adele and Louise Hoffa left Tuesday afternoon for Memphis to visit relatives.

Messrs. Ed Lewis and Jim Smith returned Monday from a business trip to Montgomery, Ala.

P. T. A. Meets.

The P. T. A. held its regular meeting last Thursday afternoon at 3:30 o'clock at the public school building.

Dr. D. P. Wilson, of the department of education at Grenada College, has kindly consented to deliver a series of lectures to the organization. They are most interesting and are proving very helpful and instructive to both parents and teachers. Thursday Dr. Wilson talked on "Heredity and Environment" and at the next meeting he will discuss the child from six to eight years.

A piano duet was skillfully rendered by Misses Lorraine Lyon and Susie Mae Peacock. Two piano solos, one by Mrs. R. H. Herring and the other by Leon Siegel, a pupil of Mrs. H. B. Miller, Jr., were also enjoyed.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Vandembrouck and son, Frank Rodgers, went to Leslie, Ark. last week-end for a family reunion. The occasion was the birthday of Mrs. Vandembrouck's father.

Dr. Jennie Lee Epps and Misses Sophie Payne Alston, Lillian McGrath, E. Faye Griffith and Elizabeth Ferguson motored to Columbus Monday to hear Fritz Kreisler. Miss Corinne Laney, who spent the week-end with her mother in Tupelo, returned to Grenada with them.

Has Bridge Club.

Mrs. J. B. Perry, Jr., entertained her bridge club on Tuesday afternoon at her home on Snider Street.

Pretty fall flowers were used in decorating in the living room where the two tables of players were seated.

High score prize, a salt and pepper set, was won by Mrs. Robert Townes, and consolation, a handkerchief, was cut by Mrs. C. B. Huggins.

An appetizing salad course was served after the games.

Mrs. P. T. LaGrone was the only guest besides the club members.

Mr. Robertson Horton, who is going to school at "Ole Miss", visited his father, Mr. Cowles Horton, last week-end and again on Tuesday.

Mrs. O. L. Thomas, of Memphis, arrived Sunday to visit her mother, Mrs. Frank Weir, until after Thanksgiving.

Mrs. Erskine Vaughn, of Memphis, is spending the next ten days with her sister, Mrs. C. W. Thompson, on College Street, and Mrs. Frank Weir, east of town.

Dr. H. T. Rogers arrived Sunday from Texarkana, where he is engaged in road construction work, to spend the week with his wife.

Carter-Boland.

Miss Myrtice Boland and Mr. H. E. Carter, of Big Creek, were quietly married Sunday afternoon Nov. 17, at 4 o'clock by the Rev. J. H. Holder in his study at the church.

Mr. Carter is engaged in business at Big Creek and the couple will make it their home.

Miss Elizabeth Hester, of Schlater, is enjoying a visit with her sister, Mrs. Jay Gore.

Mrs. J. D. Dyre and Misses Frances Maude Davis and Agnes Trusty were Memphis visitors Monday.

Miss Corinne Laney was called to Tupelo Saturday on account of the illness of her mother, Mrs. Betty Laney.

Mr. John Rundle, superintendent of the Grenada city schools, at the request of Mr. S. B. Hathorn, of the state department of education, went to Senatobia Tuesday to check up the schools there.

Miss Elizabeth Miller Eddleman spent the week-end in Columbus as the guest of Misses Hawley Knox and Mary Louise McLeod.

Mr. M. L. Bailey, of the Dixie Medicine Co., with headquarters in this city, spent Monday of this week in Memphis on business.

PAINS Went Away

"I WAS very much run-down in health. I had a dreadful ache across the middle of my back. I had a dull, tired feeling, and I dreaded the thought of having to do my household tasks. I was tired when I got up in the morning. I got no rest from my sleep, and I was sleepy all day long."

"My husband got a bottle of Cardui for me. It was not long before I began to show a decided improvement. My strength began to return, and I felt much more like myself. The sleepless spells gradually quit and the pains in my back and sides disappeared."

25 YEARS AGO IN GRENADA

From the Files of THE GRENADA SENTINEL

W. S. Allen, of Grenada, formerly a worthy citizen of this county, was attending the meeting of the board here this week.—Charleston Herald.

Local contractors have their hands full at present, with other contracts yet in abeyance. Many new and handsome residences are in course of construction, in addition to extensive repairs and changes being made on a number of old buildings.

Messrs. T. W. Frod, John Marshall and J. W. Buchanan, of Europa, were visitors to Grenada last Monday, attending a meeting of the board of directors of the Grenada Bank, of which body they were elected members.

The Rev. Theodore Dubose Bratton, bishop of the diocese of Mississippi, will visit this parish on Thursday, November 24th. Thanksgiving day, and will hold services in the evening at 7:30 o'clock, at All Saints' Episcopal church, Grenada. Owing to the absence of the rector, Rev. W. S. Holmes, who will be at Charleston on that day, services will not be held in the morning.

Bishop Charles B. Galloway returned last Tuesday from the Orient, where he spent several weeks inspecting the Methodist missions in those far-away lands.

Rev. W. S. Shipman has resigned as superintendent of the Water Valley Orphans' Home. It is thought that the home will be moved to Jackson at an early date.

Mrs. W. H. Whitaker, secretary of the local chapter of the King's Daughters, returned Saturday from Memphis, where she represented the local society at the national convention of this noble and benevolent order.

Mr. G. W. Sledge, a worthy Confederate veteran and one of Grenada's pioneer truck farmers, favored us with a call Thursday morning.

Rev. W. S. Holmes and Mr. A. C. Leigh, two prominent Grenada citizens, were in the city Tuesday.—Greenwood Enterprise.

Mr. T. C. Staten, a prominent merchant of Oxberry, was a pleasant visitor to Grenada this week and paid us an appreciated call.

Mrs. Brown, of Indianola, spent several days in Grenada the past week visiting her daughter at the female college.

Dr. Sharp returned Thursday from a visit to the mountains of Virginia.

Ringling Bros.' big show drew an enormous crowd to Grenada, people coming in from every direction, both by train and team. The streets were crowded from early morn to late at night, with a laughing, good-natured, pleasure-seeking crowd. The big street parade was a feature which was enjoyed by the old as well as the young. Children were in demand for the old folks "just had to" take them to see the animals, you know. On the whole, the day will long be remembered in Grenada.

Mr. E. J. Weyneth, the popular center to the public wants, may now be found with his sunny smile and cheerful countenance at McCaslin's, having resigned his position with the Planters Hardware Co.

CARD OF THANKS

Our hearts are so full of gratitude to those who were so solicitous over the welfare of our brother and uncle, S. T. Carter, during his long illness and who have been so sympathetic and kind following his death, that we desire to make this public expression of our appreciation. Everybody has been so good to us that it has done much in softening our grief. We want to especially thank Dr. J. S. Sharp for his faithful and untiring ministrations and the valiant efforts he made to prolong our loved one's life. May God bless each of you is our prayer.

Mrs. S. B. Cowan and Family, R. L. Carter and Family.

PETITION FOR PARDON

To His Excellency Theo. G. Bilbo, Governor, Jackson, Miss.

We respectfully petition your excellency that a pardon be granted Johnnie Jones, now serving a life sentence in the State penitentiary on a plea of guilty, at the July Term, 1925 of the Circuit Court of Grenada County, Mississippi, for the killing of Albert Hodges.

Further we would show that there were causes and circumstances connected with the killing that provoked the killing by the deceased, and that said Jones was afraid of Albert Hodges. Further that Johnnie Jones was a good and industrious negro prior to being sent to the penitentiary, and that we believe that the ends of justice have been obtained by the serving of the sentence to this time, and that he has been sufficiently punished and now merits a pardon.

Respectfully submitted,

W. N. HAYWARD, and Others.

LOCAL, SOCIAL and PERSONAL

Mrs. Hall Hostess.

Mrs. Robert Hall was the charming hostess at two very attractive parties last week, one Thursday afternoon and the other Friday.

The living room of her home on Cherry Street presented a pretty scene with its shaded lights and effective decorations of gorgeous yellow and white chrysanthemums, pink roses and ferns.

Bridge was chosen as the diversion each afternoon and a delectable salad course was served at the conclusion of the games. Mrs. E. R. Prouditt graciously assisted the hostess.

Thursday Mrs. Wallace Campbell was fortunate in winning the high score prize, a bon bon dish, and Mrs. H. E. Spain, in cutting consolation, a doric.

On Friday Mrs. Mollie Townes held highest score and was presented a double deck of cards. The consolation prize, two hand-made handkerchiefs, was cut by Mrs. Shade Steele.

Thursday Mrs. Hall's guests were: Mrs. John Pressgrove, Mrs. J. K. Avent, Mr. J. C. Prose, Mrs. H. B. Spain, Mrs. Frank Gerard, Mrs. Joe Neely, Mrs. E. A. Penn, Mrs. Herman Heath, Mrs. E. R. Prouditt, Mrs. J. A. Russell, Mrs. Overton Pearson and Mrs. Wallace Campbell.

Those present Friday were: Mrs. Shade Steele, Mrs. F. A. Stacy, Mrs. W. E. Roberts, Mrs. P. T. LaGrone, Mrs. Henry Pope, Mrs. Bruce Newsom, Mrs. Hubert Tatum, Mrs. Donald Sharp, Mrs. J. H. Boosey, Mrs. Mollie Townes, Mrs. E. R. Prouditt and Miss Salie Billups.

Hostess to Club.

Mrs. Dudley Crawford delightfully entertained her bridge club on last Friday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Robert Townes on Fourth Street.

Yellow chrysanthemums and ferns formed attractive decorations.

Mrs. W. A. McCool was the fortunate player who received the high score prize, two framed pictures.

In addition to the regular members, Mrs. Dewey Harrison was privileged to share Mrs. Crawford's hospitality. Mrs. Townes graciously assisted the hostess in serving her guest an appetizing salad course.

Mrs. Ella Anderson, of Paduch, Ky., is enjoying a visit with Miss Lida Owens. She was accompanied to Grenada by her son, Eckstein Anderson, of Louisville, Ky., who remained for only a very short visit.

Mrs. Collins Jones and attractive little daughter, Dick, of Jonestown, spent one day last week in Grenada with their sister and aunt, Miss Lida Owens.

Mrs. H. E. Duggins, of Memphis, arrived the first of last week to visit Miss Joanna Owens who lives about five miles west of Grenada.

Dr. Emma K. Hock and Miss Lucile Cook returned Friday night from Jasper, Ala., where they had been to take Miss Sue Hitt. Miss Hitt is visiting her sister, Mrs. B. K. Upshaw in Birmingham. Dr. Hock and Miss Cook intended to take Miss Hitt all the way to Birmingham but were unable to on account of the roads.

Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Carothers had as their guests Sunday Mr. and Mrs. Frank Mitchner and two daughters, of Sumner. Mrs. Carothers and Mrs. R. L. McLeod, Jr. returned to Sumner with them for a short visit.

Mrs. Donald Ross and Misses Catherine Ross, Mary Elsie Campbell, Grace Cowles Horton and Elizabeth Wilkins were delegates from the Intermediate Christian Endeavor at a state Christian Endeavor convention held in Cleveland, last week-end. Mrs. R. L. McLeod, Jr. and Misses Mary Rose, Lena Simmons Rayburn, Bay Grant, Isabel Bailey and Susie Lee Horton went as representatives of the senior division of the organization.

Miss Margaret Harris, of Batesville, who is going to school at M. S. C. W., stopped by last week on her way back to college to see her aunt, Miss Lida Owens.

Mrs. Roy Burt and little son, Roy, Jr., left Sunday for Columbus, to visit their mother and grandmother, Mrs. Mollie McLeod. Mr. Burt went as far as Winona with his wife and son.

Mrs. Claud Hall left last Thursday for Meridian to visit her son and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Ferdinand Hopkins and her grandson, Claud Hall Hopkins.

Miss Carrie Oliver returned to her home in Jackson Thursday of last week after a visit with Mrs. J. N. Provine.

Mrs. Stanley Brown, Mrs. Mitchell Estes and Miss Elizabeth Wagner were visitors to Memphis last week.

(Crowded out last week)

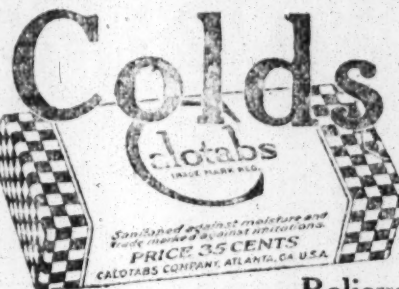

Miss Mary Catherine Guy, of Memphis, visited relatives in Grenada last week-end. (Crowded out last week)

Mrs. Robert Hall and Miss Salie Billups were Memphis visitors the first of last week. Mrs. Hall was there only one day but Miss Billups remained until Friday as the guest of her sister, Mrs. Paul Bernhardt.

Mr. Thomas Eason, of Batesville, who is connected with the I. C. Railroad, was in Grenada all last week on business.

Mr. Wayne Kimzey, of Memphis, visited his parents, Mr. and Mrs. T. M. Kimzey, last week-end.

Sore Throats and Coughs

Quickly Relieved by this Safe Prescription

Here's a doctor's prescription that is really throat insurance. Sore or irritated throats are relieved and soothed almost instantly with the very first swallow. About 90% of all coughs are caused by an irritated throat; consequently for most coughs there is nothing better than this famous prescription—it goes direct to the internal cause. It is set up under the name Thoxine and is guaranteed to stop coughs and relieve sore throats in 15 minutes or your money will be refunded. Singers and speakers find Thoxine very valuable.

The remarkable thing about Thoxine is that while it relieves most instantly, it contains nothing harmful, is pleasant tasting and safe for the whole family. Ask for Thoxine 35c, 60c, and $1.00 bottles. Sold by

Doctors Disagree

When children are irritable and fussy, grind their teeth and sleep restlessly, have digestive pains and disturbances, lack of appetite, and have "bug" eyes, nose and fingers, doctors will not always agree that they are suffering from worms. Many mothers, too, will not believe that their carefully brought up children can have worms. The fact remains that these symptoms will yield, in a great majority of cases, to a few doses of White's Cream Vermifuge, the sure expellant of round and pin worms. If your child has any of these symptoms, try this harmless, old-fashioned remedy, which you can get at 35c per bottle from

To Whom it May Concern:

I am glad to hereby render testimony as to curative value of Robinson Spring Water.

Nineteen years ago my mother was afflicted with a long standing case of Diabetes. She was then about fifty six years old, had lost about thirty pounds in weight and had spent many sleepless nights. After drinking a gallon of Robinson Spring Water every day for six months she regained her health and has remained cured. She is now seventy-five years old, lively and healthy.

I am, very Respectfully
A. F. DANIEL

NOTICE TO OUR TRADE

Experts say that an accumulation of toxin poison in the system is the direct cause of practically all illness of today, due to its effects over the activities of the heart, liver, kidneys, stomach and intestinal tract. Toxin poison is usually referred to as your being toxic or having a toxic condition.

In addition to being the direct cause of practically all human complaints which demand immediate attention, toxin poison in the system makes your brain stupid as well as your body sluggish, and actually affects your eyesight and hearing.

We have the exclusive agency for a genuine TOXIN-POISON-REMOVER, which is a dependable and scientific prescription, pleasing to take and guaranteed to gently and gradually draw all of the toxin poison from all parts of your system into the alimentary canal, hence immediately eliminated from the body.

Unless your health is 100%, we suggest you try this most wonderful preparation.

THE GRENADA SENTINEL

Revs. R. A. Tucker and T. M. Brownlee left Monday for the annual Conference of the Methodist Church of North Mississippi which convened this week at Aberdeen. Dr. J. R. Countiss, president of Grenada College, and Mr. R. W. Sharp, who was a delegate from this charge, left Tuesday. Mr. P. P. Critz and Hon. B. S. Elliott, of Holcomb, are also in attendance.

Mr. Winston E. Penn left this week for Ft. Worth, Texas, where he will engage in developing certain oil interests with which he is connected.

Mrs. Sweep S. Taylor, and little son, Sweep the third, were guests the early part of the week at the home of Mrs. Taylor's cousins, Mr. and Mrs. R. Pressgrove.

Mrs. J. S. Pressgrove, with her baby daughter, Mary Jane, of Charleston, was a visitor the first of the week at the home of her brother, Mr. R. Pressgrove, and family in Grenada.

Dr. C. M. Shipp spent Wednesday afternoon in Grenada on business in connection with the health survey to be put on in Grenada County, beginning January 1.

Miss Marion Rollins, who is engaged with the Louisville branch of the Grenada Bank, is at home for a few days visiting her mother, Mrs. Dora Rollins, and other relatives.

Mrs. H. K. Barwick spent this week in Atlanta, Ga. where she went to be present at the marriage of her son, E. C. Barwick, to Miss Jewell Smith.

Mr. C. C. White and Rev. A. A. Stanley, the new pastor, were the representatives of the Grenada First Baptist church at the state convention of that church at Tupelo.

Mrs. M. V. Branch and Miss Lydia Branch, of Winona, were among the out-of-town people to see "Bringing Up Father" last Friday night at the opera house.

Dr. Sharp and Mr. E. L. Bass made a business trip this week to Louisiana where they went with the view of prospecting as to land purchase.

Mr. C. Workman, proprietor of the Dixie Serum Plant in Grenada, made a visit this week to his old home, West Plains, Mo.

Mrs. N. P. Barksdale and little Miss Nancy Robertson, en route from Vicksburg to Gulfport, were recent guests of Mrs. W. T. Aldridge.

Mr. Robert B. Talbert, formerly a resident of Grenada, but now located at Jonesboro, Ark., visited his sister, Mrs. Aldridge, this week.

Mr. C. T. Wooten, after a visit to his home in Columbus, has returned and is employed by the Grenada Ford agency.

POLITICAL ROAD UPKEEP

Taxpayers who are discriminating know the difference between the loud talk about the cost of the state government and the actual facts as to the stupendous cost of county government in Mississippi. State taxes are only a drop in the bucket as compared with local tax burdens. And the tragedy of it is that a far larger percentage of local funds is wasted than is the case at the state capital.

Road maintenance in Pearl River county furnishes an interesting case in point. The board of supervisors in that county turned a deaf ear to the fervent appeals of several thousand taxpayers who petitioned for a ten-mill levy for road maintenance instead of twenty mills. These duly elected officials even showed resentment at the audacity of mere taxpayers in complaining about the burdens which these all-wise supervisors laid upon their breaking backs. They let it be understood that the twenty-mill levy was going to stick.

Just the other day, L. O. Crosby of Picayune, who happens to be one of the largest taxpayers in the county, appeared before the board and offered to provide six trucks with enough laborers to man them and to execute a guarantee that the six trucks would deliver more gravel to any points named by the Board of Supervisors than they would be able to deliver through the wasteful expenditure of the additional ten-mill levy. He stated that the six trucks and the wages of the operators would be approximately equal to the amount which the extra levy would cost him, so he would save little or nothing personally, but hoped to be able to demonstrate the possible saving to all the other taxpayers of the county. Of course, Pearl River county's overlords turned down this proposition also.

The interesting point is the reason advanced by one member of the Board of Supervisors who declared that the folks in his beat needed the work. Thus the bill slipped out from under the chin. Thus the inherent weakness in our county government stands revealed.

Instead of permitting all the people of a county to vote for a supervisor in each beat, the voters in each beat vote for one man alone. This enables the official who is elected to parcel out the public work among his voters and build up a little machine, which keeps him in power indefinitely. Maintenance of this official position at the public trough therefore becomes much more important than the maintenance of the highways. It matters little whether a fellow drawing public money does a full day's work or hauls a full load of gravel, so long as he is "one of the boys." Some supervisors in some Mississippi counties have even been known to cash a lot of warrants themselves. Of course, this is "nothing but a favor to a friend" who is "so busy he hasn't time to come to town."

Professor S. H. Hobbs, the sociologist from University of North Carolina, who is conducting a survey of conditions in Mississippi, was emphatically correct when he stated recently that the University of Mississippi that the county was the "dark continent of American government." The rented sine of the Tammany Tiger differ only in degree from the methods practiced at various points much nearer Hattiesburg.

Mississippi highways would be better maintained if Boards of Supervisors did not "maintain" a lot of parasites on their payrolls. If all counties were equally rotten, the situation would simply become unendurable. Fortunately some counties are blessed with good business men who are willing to serve in this important capacity and the taxpayers receive a corresponding benefit.

The power to change the system. Meanwhile it would be a long step in the right direction if our lawmakers would amend the election statute so that all voters in the county can vote for the supervisor elected from each beat. The constitution requires that one supervisor live in each beat but gives the legislature ample authority to determine how these officials shall be elected.—Hattiesburg American.

AID FOR VETERANS IS RED CROSS PLEDGE

Service and Ex-Service Men
Are Helped in All Problems.

Service to World War veterans in hospitals, for able-bodied veterans, and for dependent families of both called for expenditures of $738,000 by the American Red Cross during the year just ended. In addition, Red Cross Chapters spent $1,963,000 in veteran relief, and also for men still in service.

Although eleven years have passed since the Armistice, there remain 25,500 disabled and sick veterans of the World War in hospitals, and the peak of the number who will require hospitalization is not expected by Veterans' Bureau authorities to be reached until 1947. For these men, the Red Cross must continue its service of providing recreation and comforts, according to James L. Fieser, vice chairman of the Red Cross.

"Under its Charter from Congress, the Red Cross is required to maintain service for veterans of wars and for the men still in the service," Mr. Fieser said. "The funds for this work come from the annual roll call membership fees. In addition to the sum spent in maintaining contact with the veterans, the Red Cross expended $308,000 in its service to the men still in the regular Army, Navy and Marine Corps. The society and a majority of its 3,500 chapters handle claims for these men for insurance, compensation and other benefits they are entitled to under the law, and also where necessary arrange to provide for dependents of the men.

"Red Cross workers are maintained in forty-eight Veterans' Bureau Hospitals, as well as in all regular Army and Navy hospitals, whose duty it is to supervise recreational facilities for the patients, and to provide small comforts. In the Army and Navy hospitals, the workers also do social service for the patients. These tasks also are performed at all Army Posts and Navy Ports by Red Cross workers, and in addition Red Cross representatives to handle claims are established at the majority of Veterans' Bureau regional offices."

Mr. Fieser urged that all citizens enroll in the Roll Call, from Armistice Day to Thanksgiving Day, November 11 to 28, in order to aid in supporting this work.

Labor Head Urges Support of Red Cross

"Invariably it is the masses of the people which suffer most when disasters occur," stated William Green, president of the American Federation of Labor, recently.

"Because they suffer most and because of their helplessness, the ministrations of the Red Cross organization take on added significance and importance. No doubt many lives among these particular groups are saved through the prompt service which this organization gives."

"Because the American Federation of Labor appreciates this fact, we have supplemented the appeal of the American Red Cross at each Roll Call period for memberships from the great mass of working men and women and their families. The continued service of the American Federation of Labor in this most humane and unselfish work will be most cheerfully rendered."

Coffee Crop Aided by Red Cross in Islands

Disaster relief given following the West Indies hurricane which struck Porto Rico, the Virgin Islands and Florida, as well as other islands in the Caribbean Sea, presented one of the largest tasks yet undertaken by the American Red Cross. In Florida, where 1,810 lives were lost, the Red Cross aided 41,236 persons. In Porto Rico and the Virgin Islands, where the loss of life was not so great, but where the devastation was almost complete, the Red Cross aided 731,712 persons.

Destruction of the Coffee plants was the gravest loss, and the Red Cross aided in rehabilitating this industry by employing 67,000 natives to clear the coffee-land, so that replanting would go forward immediately, thus providing work and wages for thousands.

Among the mechanical features contributing to the smooth performance of the Oakland All-American Six and the Pontiac Big Six are the harmonic balancer which eliminates torsional crankshaft vibration; full pressure lubrication and crankcase ventilation which supplements the function of the oil cleaner in preserving the quality of the engine oil.

Red Cross Volunteers Print Books for Blind

One of the most appealing services that is carried forward by women volunteers under the American Red Cross is that of transcribing popular and scientific books into Braille for reading by the blind. This work was started at Evergreen hospital, where blind veterans were formerly sent.

The Red Cross now has 1,155 volunteer Braille transcribers, and last year they produced 442 titles in 1,849 volumes, or 175,000 pages of Braille. The majority of the books go to the Library of Congress and public libraries throughout the country, although some of the books go to schools for the blind and, in a few instances, text books are transcribed for some individual scholar in order to help him complete his course in some study.

The work is supported from the Red Cross Roll Call for members which occurs each year from Armistice Day to Thanksgiving Day.

Despite its wheelbase of 117 inches, the Oakland All-American Six can make a complete turn to the left in a radius of only 36 feet.

The number of prominent American companies using fleets of Oakland and Pontiac Sixes increased more than 100 per cent during the first six months of 1929.

Seniors in Recital.

Miss Ruth G. Bale, director of the department of expression at Grenada College, and Miss Iona Mae Liller, head of the music department, presented the senior pupils in a recital Tuesday evening, Nov. 19, at 8 o'clock, in the college auditorium.

The pupils' very splendid rendition of the various numbers bore testimony of the ability of the teachers.

The senior in voice was Miss Daphne Pepple, and the expression seniors were Misses Elizabeth Holder, Faye Gunn and Mary Miller Murray.

Compliments Bride.

Miss Kathryn Todd was hostess at an attractive five table bridge party Tuesday afternoon honoring her sister, Mrs. Walton Todd, a very lovely recent bride.

The Thanksgiving motif was artistically carried out in the decorations, which were yellow chrysanthemums and roses, and in the "turkey gobblers" tallies and dainty individual bon bon cups of yellow and white adorned with miniature turkeys. The same color scheme was used in the delightful salad course with which the guests were served.

Miss Mary Anderson was winner of the high score prize, a pretty novelty box of bath powder. The honoree, who was attractively gowned in blue transparent velvet, was presented with a unique cigarette box and ash tray filled with bath salts.

Miss Todd received her guests in a very becoming dress of brown transparent velvet. She was assisted in receiving and entertaining by her charming mother, Mrs. W. R. Todd, and by Miss Willie Smith. Miss Rachel Todd also assisted in serving.

The guest list included: Mrs. Dudley Crawford, Mrs. Dewey Harrison, Mrs. Knox Pierce, Mrs. S. H. Garner, Mrs. Stokes Kimbrough, Mrs. Robert Hall, Mrs. Frank Mohead, Mrs. J. K. Avent, Mrs. Paul Killinger, Mrs. J. N. Estes, Mrs. John Huffington, Mrs. H. P. Hudson, Mrs. John Pressgrove, Mrs. J. E. Shaw, Jr., Mrs. Spivey Kent and Misses Rebecca Stokes, Mary Anderson, Sallie Billups, Daisy Leigh Roane and Hazel Inman.

Mrs. E. L. Gerard had as her guest last week-end her son, Mr. William Gerard, of Jackson.

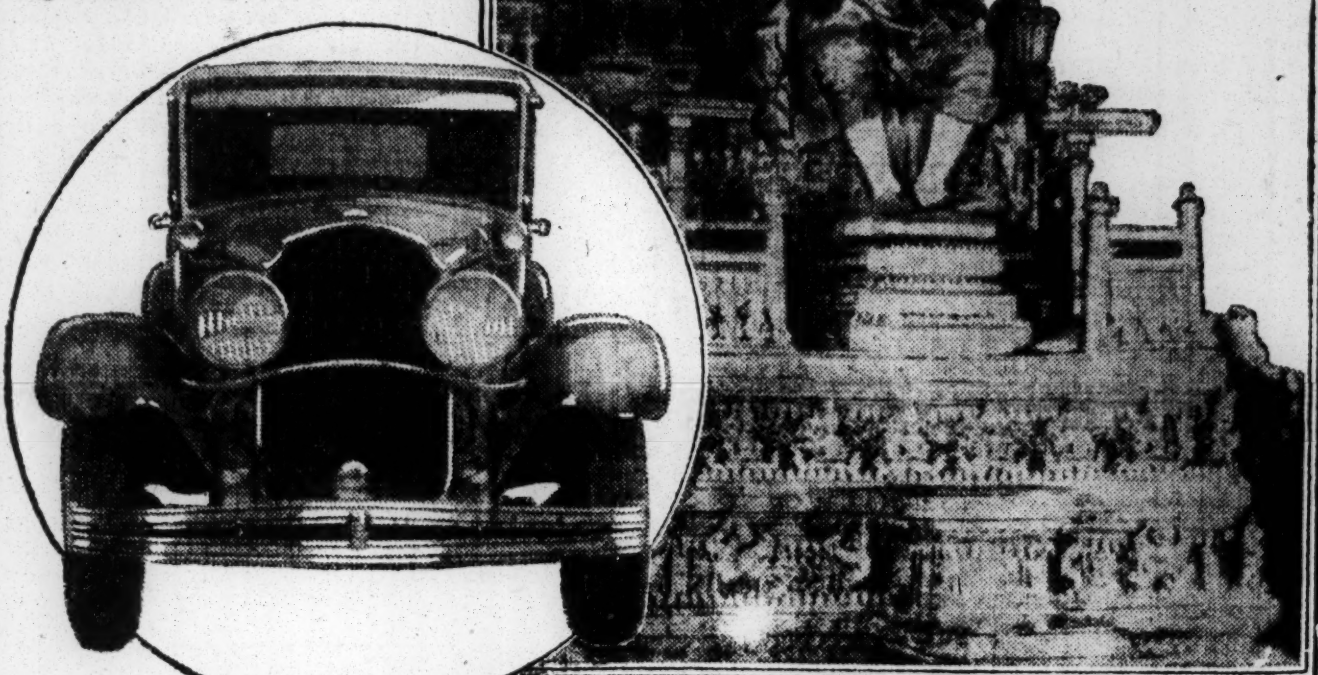

Mrs. Paul Gerard, who has been teaching in Cleveland at the Delta State Teacher's College, will be in Grenada until after Thanksgiving, when she will resume her duties at Cleveland. She left Monday for Como to visit her mother, Mrs. W. D. Craig, and returned the latter part of the week.

Mrs. J. F. Collier, Mrs. Madge Angevine, Mrs. Ella Thurman, Mrs. Colomb Waterman, Mrs. Pollie Ladd, Mrs. Mannie Peacock, Mrs. Lena Peacock, Mrs. Jack Lott, Mrs. Beulah Jackson, Mrs. Mary Koonce and Mrs. Betty Goza attended an annual school of instruction of district six, order of Eastern Star at Oxford last week.

The junior-freshman wedding will be held in the Grenada College auditorium on Wednesday evening, Nov. 28 at eight o'clock. The bridegroom is Miss Garvie Pennington of Grenada, a member of the junior class. The public is cordially invited to attend.

King of Siam Buys Chrysler Imperial

The Imperial, finest product of the Chrysler Corporation, was selected as the State car for Siam, when King Praja Dhipok, present ruler, ordered this smart sedan limousine as the latest addition to the Royal garage. The car, finished in a cream tone, upholstery and trimming being in black leather, was shipped from the Chrysler plant recently to the Siamese palace at Bangkok. King Dhipok, who was educated in England, has reigned since 1925.

THANKSGIVING APPEAL FOR OLD LADIES' HOME, JACKSON, MISS.

The Old Ladies' Home is appealing to the public through the newspapers of the State for donations at Thanksgiving for provisions of any kind.

The free cars will be run as usual for the charitable institutions, and the board of managers desires through this means to impress upon the need of the Home at this time.

The board also asks people to remember that the Home is a private charity, most largely supported by voluntary gifts. For this reason also, it is most anxious to receive generous donations.

Mrs. W. G. Raines, President, Mrs. B. C. Simrall, Publicity Sec.

PROF. J. K. MORRISON HERE

It is not an infrequent thing for J. K. Morrison to drop into Grenada but in seeing him this week, there came to the writer's mind many things in connection with this gentleman who for a number of years, or until his health gave way, was one of the state's most promising educators. Yet despite the fact that he was compelled to give up the work that he had planned for himself, he has been "everlastingly" busy at something. But it is not his energy and activities that came to mind but some more important things, and that is his devotion to what he deems right and to the fine Samaritan spirit that he has practiced and to what a struggling father, assisted by a noble mother, has been able to do for his children, particularly four sons, three of whom have already obtained college educations. So in the last analysis, it may be that J. K. Morrison has done more for the world than the capitalist or the man who gets the headlines in the daily newspapers. J. K. Morrison has done as many kind, noble, Samaritan and self-sacrificing deeds as almost any man, and in the end it would seem that he is destined to receive that welcome plaudit, "well done good and faithful servant, enter thou into the joys of thy Lord."

WIN OVER WATER VALLEY

Monday Grenada ran over Water Valley, 41 to 7, with an attack that Water Valley could not hold. Water Valley received the ball, but before four minutes elapsed Grenada made her first touchdown. In another four minutes she scored her second touchdown. Three minutes later the score was 19 to 0.

During the second quarter Houston, the star man of Water Valley's team, made their only touchdown from a kickoff.

PROGRAM OPENS SUNDAY

Jackson, Nov. 18.—Everything is being placed in readiness this week for the opening on next Sunday, November 24, of the intensive effort in the $100,000 Mississippi Baptist Program.

A step forward in the organization came Monday with the announcement of the names of campaign chairmen and associates for the fourteen hundred Baptist churches in the state.

These chairmen are busy this week building up their church committees. Then with their committees, the church chairmen will begin the canvassing of the members on Sunday.

As has been pointed out by Dr. Lawrence T. Lowrey, the general director, this emergency program is an organized, personal effort, in which the committeemen are expected to solicit every Baptist in the state individually. There are to be no collections or offerings at church services during the intensive effort.

Short talks will be given in all churches Sunday by church chairmen and pastors, and immediately after the close of the church services the canvassing will begin. The first report is to be made Monday, November 25, from all churches.

Six Million Children In Junior Red Cross

The year 1929 marks the tenth anniversary of the founding of the American Junior Red Cross. There are now Junior Red Cross societies in forty-one nations, all pledged in the common cause of service to their fellows.

Membership in the American Junior Red Cross in the United States and insular possessions is 6,378,000, and is largely through grade and high schools and private schools. The organization is governed by the boys and girls. One of its chief features is conduct of international correspondence with schools of other nations, through exchange of albums and small gifts. The American Juniors sent 85,000 Christmas boxes of small gifts to children of many nations last year. The American Junior Red Cross gained 349,171 in membership last year.
